

Firm Background

Synergy Employment Law was established in 2004 by Kathy Pavey and Julian Fidler.

We believe that clients benefit from a more synergetic approach to advising on employment law issues, and we created Synergy Employment Law because we wanted to work in a business where everyone shared the same ethos.

We recognise that clients do not just want to be told the law - they are looking for a more rounded, commercial approach. Too many employment lawyers will tell you what the law is and leave it up to you to take the ultimate decision as to the way forward.

We pride ourselves on taking a different approach and are always happy to be part of the decision-making process.
